First Game of the World's Champienshi p Series Between Brooklyn and New York Cap tured by the Former Chib-Racing Everits.

scial to the Indianapolis Journal. COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 18 .- Columbus lost a game to Indianapolis, to-day, which a hould have been easily won. Rusie was pretty wild, and in the first inning, after Mc Tamany and Marr struck out, Daily got a base on balls and stole second. Crooks, also, got a base on ball a. Then each runner stole a base, and on O'Connor's hit and (Seery's fumble both Daily and Crooks scored. Orr came to lat, and, hitting foul, the ball struck catcher Sommers on the end of the thumb, injuring; that member so that the was compelled to retire from the game. Then Buckley went behind the bat, Anarews going to third and Burkett to center field. Orr then re tired the side from Bassett to Hines. The home team made two more runs in the eighth. Daily drew a base on balls, Crook s struck out and Daily stole second. O'Con nor lined out another single, and on the throw-in Daily crossed the plate, O'Connor going to second. Orr hit a single to cen ter field, and O'Connor scored. Reilly struck out, and Orr was advanced to second on Doyle's single, but Gastright retired from Rusie to Hines.

Indianapolis scored a run in the first inning. Seery went out on a foul fly to Doyle, and Andrews and Hines hit, the former reaching third on the throw-in and scoring on the fielder's choice. Hines was thrown out at second, and Denny retired on a foul fly to Doyle. In the third, Gastright showed poor judgment, or poor conrol of the ball. Se ery was out from Reilly to Orr, and Andrews was given a base on balls. Hines was hit by a pitched ball and Denny reached first on four bad balls. Buckley sacrificed to McTamany and Andrews scored. Burk ett hit, and Gastright threw the ball to Marr, who covered second, but he dropped the ball and Hines scored. In the sixth inning Burkett hit safe, but on McGeuchy's easy ball to Crooks, both men were retired. Bassett made a single and Rusie was given a base on balls. Both men crossed the plate on Seery's three-baser to right-field fence.

World's Championship Series.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal NEW YORK, Oct. 18 .- To-day's Brooklyn-New York ball stame, the first of the series for the world's championship, was played on the Polo ground, and was won by Brooklyn by clean, hard batting. Keefe fell an easy victim to the men from across the big bridge. From the very first inning the Brooklyns started in and batted his delivery all over the field, and before the side was out five earned runs were scored. Terry was also batted hard, but stupid playing on the part of certain of the Giants prevented them from getting more runs than they did. The attendance was 8,448. Corkhill was injured while running after a ball in the third inning, and retired in favor of Visner, who played a good game. Score:

Temperance Meetings.

There was an excellent temperance meet-Ing last night at Olive-street Presbyterian Church. Messrs. King, Frazee, Brown, Ryan, Wood and others spoke. The pastor meeting will be held at the same place to-night, and Sunday night will be Mr. King's last temperance talk here for the present.

DR. VAN ANDA'S RECEPTION.

The Congregation of Roberts Park Church Formally Welcomes Its New Pastor.

The congregation of Roberts Park M. E. Church tendered a reception to their new pastor, Dr. C. A. Van Anda, in the Sabbathschool-room of the church last night. The hall was artistically decorated in cut flowers, while on the platform a solid embankment had been prepared. The room was uncomfortably full, many seeking the anterooms for comfort. It was 8:30 o'clock when Dr. Van Anda arrived, but his reception was a most enthusiastic one. He displayed especially a congenial manner, and an easy freedom with those present that will go a great ways in commending him to the congregation.

A very brief and formal service was held.
Rev. Dr. S. T. Gillett and Rev. J. H. Bickford spoke on behalf of the Southeast Indiana Conference, to which Dr. Van Anda has been transferred. Dr. Levi Ritter then made a brief address of welcome on behalf of the congregation. "You come to us as our pastor," he said, "and so far as I know, our pastor," he said, "and so far as I know, an entire stranger, personally, to the whole congregation. This throng of people has assembled here to bid you welcome and commence an acquaintance that, we hope, may be mutually pleasant and profitable. The relation of pastor to this church is assumed by your consent, the desire of the congregation and the direction of the church authorities, and, as it has for its object the mental and spiritual benefit object the mental and spiritual benefit of pastor and people and the good of all who come within the church influence, it ought to be delightful and profitable to all, and in proportion as duty is performed, it

"A Christian profession is charged with grave duties and responsibility in every be-liever, but especially so in the case of the preacher and leader of the flock. We do not intend to intimate an intention to hold you responsible for all our faults, sins and tailures, nor to conceal the fact that since the days of Adam man has delighted to excuse his sins by exhibiting the faults of another. Hence backsliders and defaulting church members have often, in other sence from church and refusal to work in any of the departments of evangelization, because, in some way, the preacher is at fault in not filling them with all spiritual life and energy. But, dear pastor, we do not exact so much, and you are not thus at fault, so we are all happy before commencing. We will try to avoid the fault of the Galatian brethren, who at first were willing, if it were possible, to pluck out their eyes' for Paul, but afterwards considered him an enemy because he told them the plain truth. That was a sublime decision of Moses, 'Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season.' The faith that enabled him so to choose, and the works by whith he carried it out in his life made him the admiration of all ages. In after life he learned that the choice meant that he must also suffer for them and sence from church and refusal to work in In after life he learned that the choice meant that he must also suffer for them and because of them. His suffering with, for and because of the people wrought in him that intense love for them that enabled him to say when the people had sinned. 'Lord, if Thou wilt, forgive them their sins, and if not, blot me, I pray Thee, out of Thy book which Thou hast written.' It is such a love that always saves transgressors. I do not mean to intimate that we are likely to be so rebellious as the children of Israel. Admitting that we only fill the definition in the Discipline, 'A band of people having the form and seeking the power of godliness,' yet we hope that our mutual acquaintance and labors together may develop in pastor and people something of that love and willingness to sacrifice for each other that was felt by the great law-giver. In the years that are to come the common trials and sufferings of life await us all. Many will be afflicted by loss of health, property or dear ones; others will join the great throng that compose the church triumphant. You will bow in prayer at the bedside of the sick, stand at the open grave of the dead. You will rejoice with the happy throng at the marriage feast, and mourn with the stricken in heart. This life and these relations we, with happy hearts, commence to-night, hoping that time, joys, sorrows, acquaintance and mutual labors for Christmay cement us together as 'an habitation of God through the spirit.'

"In the name of all these here assembled. meant that he must also suffer for them and "In the name of all these here assembled, and of the whole church, I bid you and your family a hearty and affectionate wel-

During Dr. Ritter's welcoming words. Dr. Van Anda seemed to be very deeply affected, and in a few appropriate remarks he thanked the people to whom he has just come, and for whom he will serve as pastor for at least twelve months. The balance of the evening was spent in social conversamanagement has sent out four or five thousand pamphletis in which are printed three different programmes, inclosing therewith a postal card bearing a request for an expression of opinion as to the merits of each.

In this way the public is given a chance to select the most popular programme.

Scores of requests have been sent to the committee, and from their tenor it is probable that the programme will be a happy combination of the popular and what is termed "high grade." It is noticeable, however, that even the latter is melodious in character, and therefore will be enjoyed by everybody, particularly as is it will be interpreted by the matchless orchestra that Thomas directs. Added to this will be the wonderful piano playing of Joseffy.

Some of the requests are curious; one signed by a score or more asks that "'Home Sweet Home' be played as a solo on the cello or some other instrument." How would the cymbals or kettle drum do? The performance will be in keeping with the character of the great leader, and a delightful entertainment is assured.

Mr. Downing is supported by Eugenia Blair and a strong company. Lovers of the spectacular will find in "Rice's Corsair," to be produced at English's, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, an elaborate scenic piece. The management promises a splendid performance, and will, no doubt, offer a popular and meritorious

An addition is being made to the building, and the carpenters on leaving work inadvertently left a ladder near the second story window, which enabled the girls to make good their escape. When last seen they were going along Randolph street, in the direction of Irvington.

Maggie Mitchell Now Mrs. Charles Abbott. Boston, Oct. 18.—Miss Maggie Mitchell became Mrs. Charles Abbott, in Boston, it is stated, on Saturday last, but it is not known where or by whom the ceremony was performed. Theatrical people here know nothing of the affair, but that the happy event has taken place is certain, according to this evening's Broeton (Mass.) Gazette, which announces in its local columns that "Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Abbott (Maggie Mitchell) are registered at the City Hotel." The company of which Miss Mitchell is the star and Mr. Abbott the leading man, played "Fanchon" there tonight. When Miss Mitchell married Mr. Paddock she did it so quietly that no one knew it until two months had elapsed. She seems to have pursued a similar policy upon this occasion, for not even her nephew in this city was invited to witness the marriage. It was later ascertained that the marriage took place at the residence of the actress, in Long Branch, June 13, last.

ITCHY SCALY SKIN

Every night I scratched until the skin was raw.

Body covered with scales like spots of mortar.

An awful Spectacle. Doctors useless. Cure hopeless. Entirely cured by the Cuticura Remediate

CURED BY CUTICURA I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your Cuticura Remedies performed on me. About the first of Ayril last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied with itching. I would scratch every hight until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without id. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your Cationra Remedies and purchased Cuticura Remedies, them and obtained from my druggist, almost immediate notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the Cuticura Remedies, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the Cuticura Remedies to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babes with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the Cuticura Remedies have been to me. My body was covered with scales and I was an awful spectacle to behold.

Now myskin is as clear as a baby's,

For years past we have got into the habit of allowing our "Tail" ends and remnants of goods to accumulate on our hands until the end of the season, when we offered them at a great reduction; and these sales have become so popular that several times a day parties will drop in and ask: "When are you going to close out your 'Tail Ends' and 'Remnants?'"

As our trade has been unprecedentedly large this season, we shall meet with the demand, and, commencing this morning, offer to an anxious public all ends of
